Author and cleric Jonathan Swift once said, “May you live all the days of your life”. At first that struck me as funny. Then witty. Then profound. How do we do that, in a godly way, as opposed to the prideful, self-centered, materialistic way that our culture encourages? The answer found in 1 Timothy 6:17-21 will reverberate for eternity.

Lay up treasure in heaven

v. 19

- 2 Corinthians 8:3-4 tells us giving is to be proportionate, sacrificial, voluntary, and joyful

For I testify that they gave as much as they were able, and even beyond their ability. Entirely on their own, they urgently pleaded with us for the privilege of sharing in this service to the saints.

Guard the truth

v. 20

Grace be with you

v. 21

The true life longs for God, leads with generosity, and lays up treasure in heaven, as we live out God’s word.

My personal application of this passage:

Questions for individual study and LIFE Groups:

1. Think about the command to the “rich” that Paul describes to Timothy. The sermon made the point that this applies to virtually everyone who hears this message. Do you agree or disagree with that statement? Why?
2. In what ways is wealth uncertain?
3. Do you know that God wants you to enjoy the material blessings He provides in this life? (Eccl. 5:18-19)
4. What does it look like to lead a generous life in all aspects – your time, talent, treasure, and tribe?
5. How do you stay focused on the eternal rewards that await a generous life rather than getting caught up in the here-and-now?
6. What are next steps you can take to guard God’s word and pursue a holy life that is pleasing to God?
7. Who in your life and sphere of influence can be your “O Timothy” relationship? How can you foster that relationship?
