Good Morning Fellowship!

“To live is Christ and to die is gain.” This is such a powerful promise and truth. This morning we will continue our series, “The Journey of Joy in Christ,” by exploring the depth of joy this passage provides. I can’t wait to worship with you!

My personal application of this passage:

Questions for individual study, small group Bible studies, and LIFE Groups:

1. In what area of your life do you need to replace fear or discouragement with confidence in Christ's power? How can prayer and the Holy Spirit's help strengthen you in this pursuit?
2. What are some practical ways you can magnify Christ in your workplace, home, our church, or friendships this week?
3. If you were to answer this question before you became a believer, "For me, to live is _____," what would you have written? How has your response to this question been developing this year?
4. Where might God be calling you to put aside personal comfort or preference in order to serve and strengthen others in their faith?
5. How should remembering that your citizenship is in heaven shape your daily priorities, decisions, and relationships here on earth?
6. How can we encourage each other to stand firm and show courage when following Christ brings misunderstanding, ridicule, or hardship?
